The town of Brighton was established in 1814. It was once the biggest town around, occupying the land east of the Genesee River all the way to Irondequoit Bay, and from Lake Ontario to the southern border of present-day town of Brighton. The bustling center of this town and the hub of Brighton life were both right here at the intersection of Winton Road and East Ave.

Once the Erie Canal opened in 1822, only a few yards from the town center, Brighton became a popular tourist and trading destination. The canal connected farmers and manufacturers with bustling canal towns across NY.

The Brighton Hotel was opened to give weary travelers a home cooked meal and a warm bed on their journey. It has been a popular destination since 1864.

Over the years, the Brighton Hotel has survived many renovations and changes. Most recently, we've removed several interior walls to open up the bar and dining areas, installed a wall of windows for great lighting, added an outdoor dining and drinking deck and much more.

We've also refined the classic Brighton Restaurant menu and added innovative daily specials for today's dining tastes. In short, this is definitely not your grandparents' Brighton Restaurant.

Still, we have taken great care to preserve all that is so connected with the long tradition of dining at The Brighton so that it remains a place where you can always find good food at reasonable prices served in a warm atmosphere. We hope you enjoy your meal, bring your friends and family and visit us often!
